Petty cash Problems

The traditional and manual imprest systems become more and complex as the number of branches increase - resulting in cash leakages, accounting errors, inefficient cash distribution and reconciliation

 Cumbersome disbursement <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Cash is physically distributed to each branch Substantial time and cost spent on travel Risk of theft, loss or damage during transit and while storing cash at each location. 	 Excess or insufficient cash <ul style="list-style-type: none"> No immediate visibility into spends Difficult to determine the optimal amount of cash required at each branch Delay in operations due to insufficient cash
 Unauthorised spends <ul style="list-style-type: none"> No proper controls over petty cash Weak policy enforcement & compliance Frequent cash leakage & fraud Funds from cash register wrongly used for petty cash 	 Unoptimised working capital <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Cash once allocated is blocked for a month Can't be used for other working cap needs
 Unbalanced accounts <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Misplaced, lost or damaged receipts Delayed expense report submission Mismatch: amount allocated vs. Accounted for
